1. Play African Burundi drum music (video in materials section)
2. Pause the video and then invite students to join in to follow along with the drumming beat as you restart the video. After about 1-2 min stop the video and process what was drumming like for you? Was this challenging? What pattern did you notice? Repeat this step several times.
3. Invite students to respond to the discussion prompt or lead question for the drumming circle. Remind students that after each student shares his/her response, the student will be invited to lead the circle in a drumming rhythm that reflects the feeling of his/her response-the rest of the group is asked to join in and follow along until the next person responds to the prompt. Continue with sharing until everyone has had a chance to lead the drumming circle or until time runs out
